

TRAVEL

& INDULGENCE

{ A LITTLE FLIGHT READING }

Hong Kong
Sarah Fuller (Wheel Away Disabled Travel, $30)

THIS handy little guide is aimed at wheelchair travellers and their carers. Sarah Fuller's father had a stroke 18 years ago and she has self-published this handbag-sized book using hard-won material gleaned from travelling with her parents. It is a splendid reference tool, full of maps and lists as well as crucial information on which hotels and restaurants have the best wheelchair-access facilities (which makes it handy for pram-pushing travellers as well). Let's hope it's the first of many such compendiums. More: wheelawaydisabledtravel.com.

Alexandra James

Mongolia: Nomad Empire of Eternal Blue Sky
Carl Robinson (Odyssey, $49.99)

LITTLE is left out of this guide cum travelogue by Brisbane-based American journalist Carl

